

HISTORIC PEACE CONFERENCE OPENS IN PARIS

PROCEEDINGS ARE CONFINED TO ELECTION OF FRENCH PREMIER AS THE PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

LEAGUE OF NATIONS FIRST ON PROGRAM

BULLETIN

PARIS, Jan. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Clemenceau announced that the league of nations would be the first subject taken up at the next full meeting of the conference.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The peace congress destined to be historic and on which the eyes of the world are now centered was opened this afternoon in the great Salle de la Paix. The proceedings, which were confined to the election of Georges Clemenceau the French premier as permanent chairman of the conference, an address of welcome by the president of the French republic, Raymond Poincare, and speeches by President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George and Baron Sonnino, were characterized by expressions of lasting friendship and the apparent determination of the representatives of the various nations to come to an amicable understanding with respect to the problems to be decided by the conference. When President Poincare spoke the entire assembly stood, and the fact that, according to custom, no applause greeted his utterance gave greater solemnity to the scene.

Clemenceau Accepts Presidency

M. Clemenceau's acceptance of the presidency of the congress was both a feeling expression of personal gratitude and a definite outline of the great questions immediately ahead. Three of these larger general subjects he defined as responsibility for the war, responsibility for crimes during the war and international labor legislation. The league of nations he declared was at the head of the program for the next full session.

"Our ambition is a great and noble one," said M. Clemenceau. "We wish to avoid a repetition of the catastrophe which bathed the world in blood. If the league of nations is to be practicable we must all be re-united. Let us carry out our program quickly and in an effective manner." Referring to the authors of the war he said he had consulted two eminent jurists on the penal responsibility of the former German emperor and each delegate would receive a copy of the report. In all seventy-two seats were provided for the opening session of the peace congress. On the outside of the great horse shoe were arranged the Japanese, British and Colonial delegates and the seat of the fifth British delegate. A chair for the fifth American delegate also was reserved immediately to the right of the table of honor.

Many Nations are Represented

The Italian, Belgian, Brazilian, Cuban, Haitian, Peruvian, Portuguese, Serbian, Czechoslovakian and Uruguayan delegates sat in the order named. Across at the left wing of the table sat the Siamese, Roumanian, Polish, Liberian, Hedjas, Guatemalan, Ecuadorian, Chinese and Bolivian delegations.

As the delegations arrived they were met by fanfares of trumpets and accorded military honors by the troops. The Japanese were among the earlier arrivals and were followed by the Siamese and East Indians in picturesque turbans.

President Wilson's arrival at ten minutes of three was the signal for a demonstration from the crowds. The president passed into the ante chamber, where M. Pichon, the French foreign minister, awaited and conducted him to the council room.

Crowds Greet Wilson

Already the chamber was crowded with delegates, who greeted President Wilson warmly as he passed down the table of honor. Here he was joined by Secretary Lansing, Mr. White and General Bliss, and exchanged greetings with the British and many other delegates. Just at three o'clock a ruffle of drums and blare of trumpets announced the approach of M. Poincare. The French president was escorted by the group of premiers to the head of the table where a hush fell upon the assemblage as the moment arrived for the opening of the congress.

It was exactly three minutes past three o'clock when M. Poincare began his address and the peace congress came into being. The entire assemblage stood as the president spoke. President Wilson stood immediately at his right and listened attentively.

M. Poincare spoke in an earnest, easy manner, without declamatory effect and, following usage there was no applause. M. Poincare spoke in French and when he had concluded an interpreter read the discourse in English. As M. Poincare closed, he turned to receive the congratulations of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George and then withdrew greeting each delegation as he returned.

Clemenceau Nominated
President Wilson rose as M. Clemenceau made his exit. "It gives me great pleasure," he said, "to propose as permanent chairman of the conference, Mr. Clemenceau."

President Poincare In Opening Address

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The peace conference was formally opened this afternoon with a speech by President Poincare of France.

President Poincare thanked the allied nations for having chosen Paris for their important work and praised the valor of the allied armies, which had preserved the capital of France from the enemy. The president's speech was as follows:

"Gentlemen: France greets and thanks you for having chosen as the seat of your labors, the city which for more than four years the enemy has made his principal military objective and which the allied armies have victoriously defended against unceasingly renewed offensives. "Permit me to see in your decision the homage of all the nations that you represent toward a country which more than any other has endured the sufferings of war, of which entire provinces have been transformed into a vast battlefield and have been systematically laid waste by the invader, and which has paid the human tribute in death."

Refers to America

Referring to America, President Poincare said: "The action of the U. S. was something more, something greater than a political and military event. It was a supreme judgment based at the heart of history by the lofty conscience of a free people and their chief executive on the enormous responsibilities incurred in the frightful conflict which was lacerating humanity."

"It was not only to protect itself, but the common aims of the United States equipped fleets and created immense armies, but also and above all to defend an ideal of liberty over which it saw the huge shadow of the imperial eagle encroaching further every day. America, the daughter of Europe, crossed the ocean to rescue her mother from the humiliation of thralldom to save civilization."

The French president spoke of the causes which lead to entry of the various nations into the war as the allies of France.

"The war gradually attained the fullness of its first significance and became in the full sense of the term a crusade of humanity for right," he said, "and if anything can console us in part at least, for the losses we have suffered, it is assuredly the thought that our victory is also the victory of right."

Justice Rests With Victory
In the interests of justice and peace it now rests with you to reap from this victory its full fruits. In order to carry out this immense task you have decided to admit at first only the allied or associated powers and insofar as their interests are involved in the debates the nations which remained neutral. You have thought the terms of peace ought to be settled among ourselves before they are communicated to those against whom we have fought the good fight."

The solidarity which has united us during the war and has enabled us to win military success ought to remain unimpaired during negotiations before and after the signing of the treaty. "It is not only the governments but free peoples who are represented here. To the test of danger they have learned to know and help out another. They were united yesterday to assure the peace of tomorrow. Vainly would our enemies seek to divide us. If they have not yet renounced their customary maneuvers they will soon find that they are meeting today as during the hostilities a homogeneous block which nothing will be able to disintegrate. Even before the armistice you reached that necessary unity under the aid of the lofty moral and political truths of which President Wilson has nobly made himself the interpreter and in the light of these truths you intend to accomplish your mission."

Programme Outlined
He then turned to the program of the conference, which he said covered the following main subjects of general order:

First—Responsibility for the authors of the war.
Second—Responsibility for the crimes committed during the war.
Third—Legislation in regard to the international labor.

All the powers represented would be invited to present memoranda.

In formulating this lawful claim it obeys neither hatred nor an instinctive or thoughtless desire for reprisals. It pursues a twofold object—to render to each his due and not to encourage crime thru leaving it unpunished. "What justice also demands, inspired by the same feeling, is the punishment of the guilty and the active return of the spirit, by which they are prompted and it is logical to demand that these guarantees should be given, above all to the nations that have been and might again be most exposed to aggression or threat, to those who have been submerged in the periodic tide of the same invasion."

Imperialism Must be Banished

"What justice banishes is the dream of conquest and imperialism, contempt for national will, the arbitrary exchange of provinces between states, as though peoples were but articles of furniture or pawns in a game. The time is no more when diplomats could meet to redraw with authority the map of the empire for all those who were in the world it is in the name of the peoples and one condition is that you shall faithfully interpret their thoughts and respect the rights of nations small and great to dispose of themselves and to reconcile with this the sacred right of ethical and religious minorities—a formidable task which science and history, your two advisers, will contribute to assist and facilitate. You will naturally strive to secure the material and moral means of subsistence for all those people who are constituted states, for those who wish to unite themselves to their neighbors, for those who divide themselves into separate units, for those who re-organize themselves, for those who divide themselves according to their regained traditions, and lastly for those whose freedom in which you have already sanctioned or are about to sanction."

Touche League of Nations.

"While introducing into the world as much harmony as possible you will in conformity with the fourteenth of the propositions unanimously adopted by the great allied powers establish a general league of nations which will be the supreme guarantee against any fresh assault upon the right of peoples. You do not intend for all those whose civilization is to be attacked by any body of the future. You will not of a set purpose shut out anybody but having been organized by the nations that have sacrificed themselves in the defense of right, it will receive from them its statutes and fundamental rules."

"It will lay down conditions concerning present or future adherence, and, as it is to have for its essential extreme the prevention of all those whose civilization is to be attacked by any body of the future, it will, above all, seek to gain respect for the peace which you will have established and will find it the less difficult to maintain in proportion as this peace will in itself imply the greater realities of justice and safer guarantees of stability."

"By establishing this new order of things you will meet the aspirations of humanity, when, after the frightful convulsions of the blood stained years, ardently wishes to feel itself protected by a union of free people against the every possible revival of primitive savagery. An immortal glory will attach to the names of the nations and the men who have desired to cooperate in this grand work in faith and brotherhood and who have taken the pains to eliminate from the future peace causes of disturbance and instability."

A Historic Date.

"This very day, forty eight years ago, on the eighteenth of January, 1871—the German empire was proclaimed by an enemy of invasion in the Chateau at Versailles. It was consecrated by the theft of two French provinces. It was thus a violation from its original and by the fault of its founders it was born in injustice. It has ended in oblivion. You are assembled in order to prevent a recurrence of it. You hold in your hands the future of the world. I leave you gentlemen to your grave deliberations and declare the conference of Paris open."

SOUTH DAKOTA BRINGS ARTILLERY MEN HOME

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Coast artillerymen from Connecticut and scattered states and aero construction troops from Pennsylvania, Iowa and Oklahoma who reached port today on the armored Cruiser South Dakota went thru a storm two days before from Brast described by naval officers on the warship as one of the most tempestuous they had ever experienced.

Mountainous waves buffeted the vessel and one demolished the pilot house, injuring Captain Luby, Commander Caldwell and a number of officers and sailors on duty. Commander Caldwell was disabled for a week and his companions were badly cut and bruised. In the midst of the storm which waves at times running forty feet high, two army surgeons performed an operation for appendicitis upon a soldier aboard the South Dakota.

When the condition of Corporal E. O. Williams of the 56th Coast Artillery was pronounced dangerous, the vessel lay to in order to facilitate the operation. Lashed to the table the surgeons accomplished their delicate task between lurches of the ship and today the artilleryman is on the road to recovery.

SENATE FAILS TO REACH VOTE ON FAMINE BILL

Spirited Debate On Measure Thruout Day

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—After many hours of debate the senate failed tonight to reach a vote on the bill already passed by the house appropriating $100,000,000 for European famine relief as urged by President Wilson. Despite the outspoken opposition of some members, Republican and Democratic leaders expressed the belief that the measure would be put thru Monday. They had hoped to pass it before adjournment tonight. Democratic Leader Martin and Senator Lodge spoke in favor of the measure while Senators Borah of Idaho and Kenyon of Iowa, Republicans, led the opposition.

Senator Myers of Montana, Democrat, also said he could not give the bill his support. The opposition largely was based on alleged lack of authority by congress to appropriate money, raised from the people by taxation, for European charity and sufficient information justifying the appropriation had not been submitted to congress.

Objection to feeding people of enemy countries also was raised and the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Lodge adding Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria, besides Germany, to the countries which shall not share in distribution of the funds. The Lodge amendment provides that it shall not prevent food distribution to the peoples of Armenia, Syria, Greece and Christian and Jewish people under the yoke of enemy governments.

Hoover Attacked.

During the debate Herbert Hoover, American food administrator, was sharply attacked by Senators Borah and Kenyon who charged that his administration had favored the meat packing interests.

In support of the bill, Senator Martin cited precedents, dating back to 1912 of similar relief appropriations by congress and Senator Lodge said the $100,000,000 appropriation was necessary to carry out the general work of this nation in concluding the war.

Senator Kenyon declared he did not believe it proper that the people of this country should be compelled to give to a charity fund for the aid of foreign nations and that the relief should be carried out thru private subscriptions. He contended that congress had no right to take the money from the people by taxation for charity outside the country. Statements indicating to show why the bill should be passed, he said were indefinite and declared that President Wilson got his information only from Mr. Hoover.

"Perhaps this is the result of secret diplomacy in Europe," the senator said. "I wish the president would serve notice that if the foreign nations insist on the secret diplomacy now going on at Paris that he and his staff will return to this country and also withdraw our army from Europe and let Europe do it alone."

Referring to President Wilson's statement that food would stop Bolshevism, Senator Kenyon declared: "You will stop the Bolsheviki, not by feeding him, but by removing injustices."

Should Consider U. S. First.
Before giving relief to Europe the situation in the United States should be considered, Senator Kenyon said, adding the 200,000 men are out of employment in the United States and that there are inadequate hospital facilities to care for the returned wounded soldiers.

Senator Borah said it was impossible for him to support the bill because of the connection between the food and the Bolsheviki. He would have with the disposition of the funds. Senator Borah said investigation showed that "the three vast monopolies that control the food supply have directed and controlled the food administration since he has been in charge." By this, he said, he did not intend to say that Mr. Hoover had benefited in anyway, but that it was Hoover's viewpoint that permitted this to be done.

While press dispatches have described suffering at home for lack of food, the Idaho senator said the packers admitted that their war profits were forty seven percent on capital invested. Passage of the bill, he asserted would increase packers' profits. He contended that it would be unjust to hold the president responsible for proper relief distribution as he would not know how the money was spent.

Armistice With Huns Extended 30 Days By Foch

PARIS, Friday, Jan. 17.—The agreement for the renewal of the German armistice signed by Marshal Foch, Admiral Browning and the German armistice commissioners on Thursday provided for the renewal of the armistice from time to time after the month for which the extension runs, until the conclusion of peace, subject to the approval of the allied governments.

The principal terms of the renewal are substantially as has been reported. In addition, there is a clause by which the allied command reserves the right to occupy that part of the Strasbourg defenses comprised by the forts of the eastern bank of the Rhine and a strip of territory from three to six miles beyond. Other clauses provide for the supplementary railroad material, fixed at five hundred locomotives and nineteen hundred cars by the protocol of December 1, by large quantities of industrial and agricultural implements and gives control of Russian prisoners in Germany to allied and associated delegates for repatriation. German headquarters at Berlin will act in collaboration with the allied and associated relief organizations in this phase of the work.

The naval clauses provide that all submarines must be turned over, including all submarine mines, mine layers, sweepers, salvage ships and floating docks for submarines. They also stipulate the building of all submarines must cease and those on the stocks must be dismantled or destroyed under allied supervision. Germany undertakes to turn over all allied ships still detained in German ports. The clause providing that Germany shall place her mercantile marine at the disposal of the allies in return for food supplies says that the final disposal of those ships, the agreement of those ships.

Protest Against Acceptance.

Berlin, Friday, Jan. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—Chiefs of departments in the German government, especially the ministers of commerce and of trade, protest against acceptance by the German delegates of the latest armistice conditions, the fulfillment of which they declare, "means for Germany the organized preparation of starvation."

The minister of commerce and labor, according to the Tagblatt declares that Germany will be unable to replace the agricultural machinery because Germany lacks necessary metals, coal and trained laborers. He says German agricultural will be crippled if the machines are delivered to the allies.

The Boersen Courier says that Food Minister Wurm declared he first learned of the conditions thru the press and that he could not accept responsibility for the consequences. The Tagblatt asks in an editorial: "Where are justice and humanity when we are to dictate peace? We behold always force and only force and the German people, after such great physical and mental suffering, are delivered over to destruction."

The building is located in one of the main business blocks of the city. The blaze was a spectacular one, flames shooting high into the air. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

WELL KNOWN CHICAGOAN DEAD

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Otto Pelzer, who came from Germany in 1853 and served many years in public office died yesterday at his home in Oak Park, a suburb. He was 83 years old. SPARTACANS ARE CLOSELY WATCHED BY LOYAL TROOPS

Berlin Strongly Defended Against Bolshevik Snipers

(By the Associated Press.)
LONDON, Jan. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mitau, the capital of Courland has been occupied by the Bolsheviks, according to a German wireless dispatch received here today. The Germans were obliged to leave behind numerous guns and supplies and ammunition. After the Germans evacuated Mitau fire broke out destroying a great number of houses in the center of the town.

BULLETIN.

(By the Associated Press.)
More loyal troops entered Berlin today and occupied the whole center of the city, as well as the north and northwest sections. Heavy artillery has been placed in Donhoff-Platz and Spittelmarkt. Field guns stand at various points in the closely guarded district including Unter Den Linden, and armored autos and tanks have been prepared for instant use. All the streets in the sections named are under guard and it is impossible to pass without identification and without satisfying the soldiers that one is unarmed.

Systematic search for Spartacans continues. Especially strong forces have been posted in sections most exposed to bolshevist snipers in recent days and citizens are warned to keep in doors at night.

However dispatches report a clash between authorities of the majority socialist movement and the Spartacan and independent socialist government in Brunswick. The soldiers' and workmen's council, which in connection with the Brunswick state government has been using all means to prevent the dispatch of troops to protect Germany's eastern borders gave notice that any troops passing through Brunswick railway station would be disarmed. The Hanover council thereupon sent strong forces which occupied a railroad station in Brunswick territory.

The Brunswick council protected, saying that this act was "provocation to bring bloodshed and battle to the free states of Brunswick."

The Hanover council replied all Brunswick troops belong to the tenth army corps of Hanover. Former Spartacan war minister Schreiner of Stuttgart is reported under arrest, with fifteen other Spartacans. The Spartacan coup at Stuttgart is said to have cost seven lives.

The executive committee of the council has telegraphed to councils at Muelheim-Am-Ruhr, Hamburg and other places requesting that the councils order their own immediate reconstitution by new elections carried on by the proportional system. The central committee says that conditions at a number of places require this action.

THE NEED FOR HOUSING.

If only the houses that should be built are erected this year the work will help out mightily with the whole industrial situation. Trade publications show there is a present shortage of 700,000 houses in America. These figures will be checked up through the researches of the Division of Public Works; but they correspond fairly well with figures given recently at the housing conference in Boston, where it was said that the normal home building of the nation is approximately 320,000 houses each year—assuming five persons to a house and figuring solely on the annual increase in population.

During the period of the war home building was practically at a standstill except for the national housing projects at shipyards and munitions works.

There is unquestionably, therefore, a need of construction of practically all kinds; there is labor power available at present and there is the necessity for putting the nation into shape so that it may be equipped in the best possible way for future developments.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT MENACE.

The "jobs for soldiers" movement took on a new aspect in New York yesterday, when a mob made a demonstration because of unemployment. It seems that thru the preference shown to give employment to returned soldiers that others lost position. When one thinks of the fact it is not surprising that unemployment conditions are now a matter of concern.

When the war closed the wheels of hundreds of great industries stopped and vast numbers of workers were thrown out of employment. Some of these it is true, were absorbed in other lines, but still others are in the ranks of the unemployed. Now comes troop ship after troop ship with soldiers from overseas who are being returned to civil life. The real wonder is that there has not been greater disturbance of industrial conditions and that the problem of unemployment has not become one of chief concern for all the country.

THE LIQUOR INTERESTS LAST STAND

Nothing could better illustrate the unhappy state of the liquor interests or the ends to which they will go in an effort to carry out their purposes than the suggestion that the approval of national prohibition supersedes all other dry laws and that now every state and district is wet. This very contention shows the insincerity of their talk about spending a billion dollars in legal proceedings to show that the prohibition amendment has not been adopted in the manner provided for by the constitution.

If they had hopes of winning the talked of contest, why now declare that by the action taken all the country is wet territory? Evidently there are some members of the liquor organization who are wanting a very riot of "wetness" thru the remaining twelve months. This isn't reasonable even from their own standpoint, for during recent weeks prices on all kinds of booze have doubled and tripled on the theory that the supply is very short.

BACK TO FUNDAMENTAL THINGS.

The turning of the thoughts of the people toward religion and the more serious affairs of life after the war began has often been referred to. How this feeling is manifested in England was recently suggested by Alfred Noyes, the English poet, in an address in New York City. He said:

"Literature in England has been growing anarchistic since the death of Tennyson and Browning. It had been agnostic for twenty years. We were saved from the decline of Germany only because we kept some traditions of honor, of playing the game, from the days when we had religion. But we are getting back to belief, to knowing there is a greater than ourselves. While losing from twenty to thirty thousand men a week, England has affirmed something she had well-nigh forgotten—that there is a power above State. She has gone back to some words of old—'In the beginning, God.'"

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

This is a statement the Republican publicity committee authorized.

"It is difficult to imagine what the New York Times hopes to gain for itself or its party by the remark in a recent editorial that 'Before we entered the war the Republican party's behavior was ominous to the country. Because it had no strong leader it was falling asunder morally; it was eaten up with pacifism and lacked a spine."

"Eaten up with pacifism," indeed? Then what party was it, just before we entered the war, that made a campaign on the issue of 'kept us out of war'? What party was it whose leader declared that with the causes of the war we had nothing to do? What party was it whose leader declared that America was too proud to fight? What party was it that refused to prepare before we entered the war, dallied with preparedness after we entered the war and excused the delay by saying that the war was 3,000 miles away? What party was it whose specially chosen publicity agent declared that he thanked God we entered the war unprepared? What party was it that furnished the smaller proportion of votes for war measures, leaving the Republicans in the House the task of leading the fight for essential war legislation? If the Times thinks, after reviewing the record, that the Republican party before we entered the war was 'eaten up with pacifism' what was the condition of the Democratic party to which the Times has so consistently given its support?"

Let us hope that the hearing on Henry Ford's petition contesting the election of T. H. Newberry to the U. S. senate from Michigan doesn't last as long as some senatorial contests in the past. Some of the hearings have dragged along thru many weary months and have caused an enormous expense without any resulting benefit to the public.

The bill for the 1920 census has passed the senate. That will help along with the unemployment issue, for the taking of the census means thousands of jobs for directors and enumerators, to say nothing of the clerks down at Washington.

The end of the fuel administrator's reign, it is predicted by officials, will lower coal prices. That remains to be seen. The operators have all along been protesting that the government prices were not high enough. Now with the lessened demand from industry, they are producing only about 50 per cent as much coal and it is costing them correspondingly higher prices. The public should not yet congratulate itself.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Cold Weather.

Oh, winter, rude season, I'm glad you are here, though I have much reason for springing a tear, for I am afflicted with various ills which keep me addicted to powders and pills. They're worse when the weather is cold as get out; they all ache together, rheumatisms and gout; the ring-bone and spavin are painful and sore, as I rub the salve in, and holler for more. Ills transient and chronic I try to forget; for winter's a tonic, the best tonic yet. The wise men inform us in well chosen terms the knowledge should warm us; it's death to 'ag germs. The microbes so dizzy all turn up their toes, when winter gets busy with health giving snows. If winter is helping the masse of men, I'd blush to be yelping when aching again. If winter is slaying the germs by the ton, you won't hear me saying a harsh word, not one. Ills just sit up nursing my swellings and aches, and leave all the cursing to ignorant jakes. When science assures me that winter is great, confounds and obscures me with words out of date. I feel that rheumatisms is merely a dream, and bats fill the attics of patients who scream. We must lean on science, whatever we do; we must have reliance on one thing or two.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Alma Siegel, by her attorney, Carl E. Robinson, has brought suit for divorce from her husband, George Siegel. They were married in May, 1916. The complainant alleges desertion and asks for the custody of their child, maintaining that the defendant is not a fit person to have its care and custody.

GOVERNMENT PICTURE COMING TO RIALTO

"Under Four Flags," the new U. S. official war picture put out by the Division of Films, Committee on Public Information, realistically illustrates the difference in morale between the Allies and the Huns. When all Flanders seemed lost, when Picardy was in the hands of the enemy and Paris seemed doomed there was no talk of surrender. Long before the Huns were driven back to the Hindenburg line, as will be shown in the latest Government war picture at the Rialto Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Germany was begging, almost upon her knees, for an armistice to save herself from invasion and punishment.

HARD ROADS AGAIN
DISCUSSION THEME

Meeting Was Held at Court House Saturday Afternoon. Unity of Action is Urged—County Bond Issue Suggested.

A good roads meeting was held at the court house Saturday afternoon when a special committee appointed at a recent four-county conference here, made a report thru F. L. Sharpe and there was general discussion of the hard roads project. H. K. Snyder, president of the Morgan County Good Roads association, presided and the reports were made by L. T. Potter, secretary and A. E. Williamson, treasurer, both of that organization.

The Cross State Plan on the fact that route 36 as laid out in the hard roads law, passes thru this city and extends across the state. He said that by no means all the roads contemplated can be built at once but a cross state highway will certainly be given some preference. He suggested that the committee recently appointed from Morgan county is ready to give the state highway department any desired information about the conditions here and to properly co-operate in every way possible to have early construction work begun.

John J. Reeve was introduced as an intimate friend of W. G. Edens who has been the chief sponsor for the good roads program. Mr. Reeve made the point that the thing to bring early action is a union of effort. He said in couples where there are no disagreements between the people about the routes to be followed that naturally the state highway department will pass on to municipalities where there is no division of sentiment, and let the squabbling counties have time to settle their differences. A. M. Masters, County Commissioner, J. M. Swales and Charles Magill, J. E. Osborne, Thomas Worthington, all spoke briefly and favorably joining heartily in the sentiment that what Morgan county wants is hard roads and that as soon as possible.

Urges County Bond Issue.
A. L. French was called on and said that he had talked good roads for twelve or fifteen years and how he believed the time for decisive action had come. He declared that under the state aid plan it will be possible for this county to issue bonds for the construction of hard roads and that the money so expended would be refunded by the state. By this means he said that it would be possible to secure hard roads much more quickly than if the county waits for all the work to be done by the state officials. His idea is that by a bond issue every "bad" center of the county would be touched by a hard road system, that the work could be done by the county and the money paid back. He said this very thing had happened in Vermillion county, where all the main thoroughfares now have hard roads, paid for thru a county bond issue. This money will now be paid back by the state in due course of time.

The suggestion of Mr. French brought some approval from the auditors and gave the men some thing to think about and investigate as most of them were not familiar with the provisions of the laws now on the statute books.

PEACE CONFERENCE OPENS IN PARIS

moirs of these three questions. The powers having particular interests M. Clemenceau continued would be asked to present further memoirs upon territorial, financial and economical questions.

"The league of nations will be placed at the head of the order of the day of the next full session," M. Clemenceau announced, as he concluded his address. He paused for further suggestions of business and as none was made he declared the session adjourned.

It was 4:30 o'clock and the opening session had lasted one hour and a half. No exact time was fixed for the reassembling of the full session of the conference as that awaits the call of the supreme council of the five great powers which will probably meet Monday morning.

Lloyd George's Address.
 Paris, Jan. 18.—Following is the address of the British prime minister at the opening session of the peace conference.

Mr. Lloyd George said:
 "I count it not merely a pleasure but a great pleasure that I should be expected on behalf of the British empire delegates to support the motion of President Wilson. I do so for this reason which he has so eloquently given expression, was a compelling and a conspicuous figure in the politics of his native land and his fame had extended far beyond the bounds of France.

"Were it not for that undoubted fact, Mr. President, I should have treated as a legend the common report of your years. I have attended many conferences with Mr. Clemenceau and in them all the most vigorous, the most enduring and the most youthful figure there has been that of Mr. Clemenceau. He has had the youthfulness, he has had the hopefulness and the fearlessness of youth. He is indeed the grand young man of France and I am proud to stand here to propose that he should take the chair in this great conference that is to settle the peace of the world. I know of none better qualified, or as well qualified to occupy this chair than Mr. Clemenceau. And I speak from my experience in its claim. He and I have not always agreed. We have sometimes disagreed and we have always expressed our disagreements very emphatically because we are ourselves.

"But although there will be delays and inevitable delays, in the signing of peace, due to the inherent difficulties of what we have to settle, I will guarantee from my knowledge of Mr. Clemenceau that there will be no waste of time. And that is important.
 "The world is thirsting and hungering for peace. There are millions of people who want to get back to the world of peace. And the fact that Mr. Clemenceau is in the chair will be proof that they will get there without any delays which are due to anything except the difficulties which are essential in what we have to perform. He is one of the greatest speakers of the world. But no one knows better than he that the best speaking is that which impels beneficent actions.
 "I have another reason. During the dark days we passed thru his courage, his unfailing courtesy, his untiring energy, his inspirations have helped the allies thru to triumph and I know of no one to whom that victory is more attributable than the man who sits in this chair. In his own person more than any living man he represents the genius of the indomitable people of his land. And for these reasons I count it a privilege that I should be expected to second this motion."

Wilson Nominates Clemenceau
 Paris, Jan. 18.—Following is the address of President Wilson at the opening session of the peace conference.
 "Mr. Chairman: It gives me great pleasure to propose as permanent chairman of the conference, Mr. Clemenceau, the president of the council.
 "I would do this as a matter of custom. I would do this as a tribute to the French republic. But I wish to do it as something more than that. I wish to do it as a tribute to the man.
 "France deserves the precedence not only because we are meeting at her capital and because she has undergone some of the most tragical sufferings of the war but also because her capital, her ancient and beautiful capital, has so often been the center of conferences of this sort on which the fortunes of large parts of the world turned.
 "It is a very delightful thought that the history of the world, which has so often centered here will now be crowned by the achievements of this conference—because there is a sense in which this is the supreme conference of this history of mankind. More nations are represented here than was ever represented in such a conference before. The fortunes of all peoples are involved. A great war is ended, which seemed to about bring a universal cataclysm. The danger is passed. A victory has been won for mankind, and it is delightful that we should be able to record these great results in this place. But it is more delightful to honor France because we can honor her in the person of so distinguished a servant. We have all felt in our participation in the struggles of this war the finest steadfastness which characterizes the leadership of France in the I admire him and those of us who have been associated with him have been associated with him for him.
 "Moreover those of us who have been in these recent days in constant consultation with him know how warmly his purpose is set towards the goal of achievement to which all our faces are turned.

"He feels as we feel, as I have no doubt everybody in this room feels, that we are trusted to do a great thing, to do it in the highest spirit of friendship and accommodation and to do it as promptly as possible in order that the hearts of men may have fear lifted from them and that they may return to those purposes of life which will bring them happiness and contentment and prosperity.
 "Knowing his brotherhood of hearts in these great matters it affords me a personal pleasure to propose that Mr. Clemenceau shall be the permanent chairman of this conference."

Premier Clemenceau Responds.
 PARIS, Jan. 18.—Premier Clemenceau responded as follows:
 "You would not expect me to keep silence after what the two eminent statesmen, who have just spoken, have said. I cannot help expressing my great, my profound gratitude to the illustrious president of the United States, to the prime minister of Great Britain and to Baron Sonnino for the words I have just heard from their lips. Long ago when I was young as Mr. Lloyd George has recalled to you, when I was traveling in America and in England I always heard the French reproached for an excess of courtesy, which sometimes went beyond the truth. As I listened to the American statesman and to the English statesman I wondered whether they had not caught in Paris our national disease of courtesy. Nevertheless, Gentlemen, I must say that my election is necessarily due to the old international tradition of courtesy to the country which has the honor to receive the peace conference in its capital.
 "New Strength in Friendship.
 "I wish also to say that this testimony of friendship if they will allow to me the word on the part of President Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George in particular has touched me deeply because I see in it a new strength for all three of us to accomplish, with the operation of the entire conference, the great work which is entrusted to us. I gather from it a new confidence in the success of our efforts.
 "President Wilson has special authority to say that this is the first time in fact that the world has ever assembled together a delegation of all the civilized nations of the earth.
 "The greater the bloody catastrophe which has devastated and ruined one of the richest parts of France, the greater and more splendid must the reparation—not only the material reparation, the vulgar reparation, if I dare speak so, which is due all of us but the high and nobler reparation of the new institution which we will try to establish in order that nations may at length escape from the fatal embrace of a new war which destroys everything, breeds up rebels, terrorizes the populace and prevent them from going freely about their work for fear of enemies which may rise up from one day to the next.
 "It is a great, splendid and nobler ambition which has come to all of us. It is desirable that success should crown our efforts. This cannot take place unless we all have firmly fixed and clearly determined ideas on which we wish to do. I said in the chamber a few days ago, and I wish to repeat here that success is not possible unless we remain firmly united. We have come together as friends, we must leave this hall as friends. That gentlemen is the first thought that comes to me. All else must be subordinated to the necessity of a closer and closer union among the nations who have taken part in this great war and to the necessity of remaining friends. For the league of nations is here. It is yourself. It is for you to make it live and to make it live we must have it really in our hearts.
 "Ready For Sacrifice.
 "As I told President Wilson a few days ago there is no sacrifice that I am not willing to make in order to accomplish this, and I do not doubt that you all have the same sentiment. We will make these sacrifices, but on the condition that we endeavor impartially to conciliate interests apparently contradictory on the higher plane of a greater, happier and better humanity.
 "Gentlemen, is what I had to say to you. I am touched beyond words as the evidence of good will and friendship which you show me.
 "The programme of this conference has been laid down by President Wilson. It is no longer the peace of a more or less vast territory no longer the peace of continents it is the peace of nations that is to be made. This program is sufficient in itself. There is no superfluous words. Let us try to act swiftly and well."

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN PLANS ARE SHAPING

Dr. Kopperl Urges Duty of Voluntary Registration in Order to Lessen Work of Solicitation—Headquarters in Knollenberg Building.

Plans are practically complete for the Red Cross membership campaign to begin Monday, Jan. 27. Headquarters will be established in the offices of Dr. G. H. Kopperl at the corner of East State street and the square. Workers will be on hand there, beginning next Tuesday morning, to carry on the preliminary work. Morgan county people are urged to call at the headquarters and pay their membership dues prior to the opening of the campaign, thus reducing the work of solicitation. Prompt action in this regard will be greatly appreciated by the campaign management.

Dr. Kopperl last night made the following statement about campaign plans:

Expect Rapid Work.
 "In the Red Cross campaign which is to begin Jan. 27 the influenza situation is having an effect as to the number of workers available, yet we think we can work out a plan by which it will not interfere materially. The idea of starting in with the intention of completing the work in a few days has appealed to many of the workers as they will be called upon to give only a comparatively short period of service. It is the intention of the committee to open headquarters at once in the Knollenberg building at the corner of East State street and the square, and it is expected that the people will come in and take membership before the actual opening of the campaign. This will facilitate matters greatly and will save a vast amount of labor on the part of solicitors.
 "A corps of workers will be installed Tuesday morning and everyone is requested to come early in the week, as it will then be possible for us to complete our files and the people themselves will feel better, having thus done their duty.

100 Per Cent Business Houses.
 The executive committee is composed of Mrs. W. E. Spoons, E. E. Crabtree, H. M. Capps, A. C. Metcalf and G. H. Kopperl. Business houses have been asked to organized immediately by having each employee and employer take a membership. A suitable poster will be issued to all 100 per cent business houses and there should be real interest in being among the first to display such posters. It will be necessary for at least practically every adult in Morgan county to take or renew membership if the county is to meet its quota.

The campaign is to be worked out in conjunction with the health authorities, which will necessitate action on the part of each individual, thus saving much house to house visitation.

GARMENT WORKERS DEMAND INCREASE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union with a membership of 35,000 in this city, today authorized calling of a strike next week unless in the meantime the employers grant demands for a 15 per cent wage increase and a 44 hour working week.

The result of the strike vote was announced at a meeting held late today in Madison Square Garden.

At one time it appeared as if the meeting might turn into a Mooney demonstration for Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor was denouncing the employer class when a woman cried out:

"What is the American Federation of Labor going to do regarding Mr. Mooney?"

Mr. Morrison replied that the federation intended to do everything in its power to obtain a new trial for the labor man convicted of murder in connection with the preparedness day bomb outrage in San Francisco.

Mayor Hylan today conferred with garment workers and their employers in an effort to adjust their differences.

ILLINOIS LOST

OPENING GAME

Defeated by McKendree in an exciting game by score of 26 to 24—Illinois Outplayed Visitors in Second Half.

Illinois College lost her first basketball game of the season in David Price gymnasium Saturday evening by a score of 26 to 24. The game, especially the second half was full of thrills and kept the spectators on their toes all the time.

Starting the second half with the score 16 to 6 in favor of the visitors, Illinois took a brace and outplayed McKendree. Had the game lasted a few minutes longer it is probable that Illinois would have been the winner as the men were going good and were locating the basket.

McKendree had in Dolly left forward a fast man and it was his work that brought victory to his team. Dolly scored 16 of the 26 points made by his team.

For Illinois, Tomlinson, Cully and Andrews were the point makers. Andrews especially played a fast game both on offense and defense and Mutch and Whisler covered the guard positions well.

Illinois displayed some excellent team work thruout and in the second half their passing was as good as ever displayed by an Illinois five. However, the men were sadly off in basket shooting and missed enough easy shots to have put the game on ice.

While Illinois lost the fans are convinced that the team will give a good account of itself and be on the long end of the score in a majority of its games. In the curtain raiser Brown's Business college defeated the Illinois seconds by a score of 12 to 11.

COLONIAL INN IS HANDSOME STRUCTURE

As Rebuilt It Is Much More
Spacious Than Before the Fire
—Soon Ready for Occupancy.

At no distant day the rebuilt Colonial Inn will be ready for occupancy. After fire badly damaged the Inn property early last summer Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Vickery, the owners, were for a time uncertain as to their plans. Within a few weeks, however they determined to rebuild their property and the public was glad to hear the announcement because the Inn is one of the attractive features of Jacksonville life.

When the wreckage was cleared away it was found that there was a splendid nucleus for a rebuilt structure. The general lines of architecture were followed but the building was very considerably enlarged. An inspection of the handsome building shows that there have been many changes and improvements so that as a result of a very bad fire the building is really now very much more spacious than it was before.

Handsome Dining Room.
The dining room, which occupies the east side of the first floor, is one of the most attractive of the many rooms of the Inn. It is done in a soft gray and the hangings are in pink. The lighting has been improved by the addition of two wide French doors, one of them having been placed in either side of the bay window. The fireplace at the south side of the room has been rebuilt and in every particular the dining room is attractive.

The front hallway is in yellow and white and the hangings in Delft blue. The reception room at the west of the hall has been beautified with a fireplace, the mantel above being done in handsome mahogany. The walls in this room are in Quaker gray and the hangings colonial yellow. Thruout all the rooms these same general tones of wall coloring are followed, there being several shades of yellow which can all properly be classed as colonial.

Captain and Mrs. Vickery have rooms to the south of the reception room and adjoining them on the east is a den or library. This apartment in case of receptions or parties can be used as a smoking room. A nearby hallway will serve as a sort of office as there will be space for a desk and the telephones.

Many Rooms Added.
On the second floor the rooms on both the east and west sides and at the front are so arranged that they can be used in suites of two or three. In one of the suites the new fireplace has a sumptuous mantel of white and in another the mantel is done in bird's eye maple. All these fireplaces are equipped with gas logs of a new ventilating type which always makes them readily usable.

Some improvements have also been made in the spacious kitchen. The lighting of this room has been improved and adjoining it on the south is still another kitchen which can be utilized for special occasions or as the need arises. This room is fully equipped with cooking facilities, heat and light. The ventilating system installed in the building is of a modern kind and there is hot water heat in every room.

One way in which so much increased space was possible is due to the fact that the second and third floors now extend to the north over the broad porch. Before the fire this porch extended clear from the ground to the top of the building. The change has been effected without marring the fine effect of the great colonial columns.

Excellent Taste Shown.

Capt. and Mrs. Vickery have used excellent taste in choosing the coloring and hangings for the Inn and it is certainly a building which is a credit to them and to the city. T. C. Chumley was the general contractor and Kruse and Benson the painters and decorators.

NURSING SURVEY

TO CONTINUE

Miss Grace Carter, executive secretary for the Red Cross nursing survey, has during the past week sent to headquarters 147 completed questionnaires. This is considered a good showing for this county, but it does not represent the full nursing strength. Accordingly it has been decided to continue the work during the coming week. The members of the committee and others interested are anxious for the city to make a creditable showing and for that reason there will be still greater enthusiasm in the registration this week. As already explained, this is a Red Cross movement, desired by the government, and the people who help are engaged in a patriotic work.

Further Steps Taken in Organization of Breeders Association—Combination Sale Planned.

Another meeting of the Morgan County Livestock Breeders and Feeders association was held at the court house Saturday at 12:30 o'clock. At a recent meeting A. M. Masters was chosen president of this organization, L. A. Reed vice president and G. B. Kendall, secretary and treasurer. At the session yesterday Mr. Masters made a brief statement about the purposes of the organization and the various branches or sub-divisions of the organization that it is hoped to develop. Others who spoke were A. L. French, Lester Reed, C. Justus Wright, H. E. Kitter and C. L. Hawker.

Two special projects were discussed, one of which is the early publication of a Morgan county breeders' directory, which will be of value both to residents and non-residents. Another matter for which plans were laid is a combination sale. In other localities the breeders of thoroughbred stock have found it of distinct advantage to hold these combination sales as such stock is offered to attract buyers from a wide area. It is quite probable that a combination sale will be arranged to be held at some early date. The breeders of livestock already enlisted in this are C. A. Rowe, C. H. Gibb, J. G. O'Leary, L. A. Reed, Clifton Davis, E. B. Kitter, Otis Leake, W. T. Scott, E. R. Hembrough, A. D. Gibson, S. J. Camm, W. C. Williams, Howard Stevenson, A. M. Masters, H. J. Joy, H. T. Cowdin, C. L. Hawker, D. T. Heimlich, A. L. French.

He Quit Tobacco

This veteran, S. R. Lamphere, was addicted to the excessive use of tobacco many years. He wanted to quit but needed something to help.

He learned of a free book that tells about tobacco habit and how to conquer it quickly, easily and safely. In a letter he writes: "I have no desire for tobacco any more. I feel like a new man." Others report similarly. Wonderful for easily overcoming cigarette and pipe habit, and chewing.

Anyone desiring a copy of this book can get it free, postpaid, by writing to Edward J. Woods, 1015 Station F, New York City. You will be surprised and pleased. Look for quieter nerves, stronger heart, proved vitality, increased vigor, longer life and other advantages if you quit poisoning yourself with tobacco. In three days you can be rid of the addiction—then become robust, and solid flesh, each man a man among men. This is genuine; show others this advantage.

VEERIN DANIELS, LONG TIME RESIDENT, DIES

Passed Away Saturday Evening at Home of His Daughter Mrs. J. T. Gunn—Funeral Will be Held Tuesday.

The venerable Veerin Daniels died last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. T. Gunn, two miles west of the city. His disease was pneumonia and until a few days before his death it was thought he might possibly rally from the attack.

Mr. Daniels was the son of Veerin and Martha Barton Daniels and was born in a house which stood on the south side of Morgan street just one door west of West street. He came of sturdy New England stock, his father tracing his family tree directly back to the Mayflower. The family moved here from the east in 1828, the father being a gunsmith by trade and for a long time Mr. Daniels owned a gun made by his father.

When Mr. Daniels was sixteen years of age his father closed his shop and moved to the farm now owned and occupied by Stansfield Baldwin a few miles north of the city. The son went to Hazel Green school and two years to Berean college until that institution closed its doors.

Mr. Daniels most of his life followed the occupation of farming. In 1866 he took possession of a place near Arcadia and in 1870 bought a farm a few miles north of the city and occupied it until the house burned in 1895 when he moved to the city and lived in different places till two years ago when he and his wife went to live with their dutiful daughter, Mrs. Nellie Gunn, two miles west of the city.

Mr. Daniels was married Dec. 3, 1863 to Miss Virginia English, daughter of Joseph and Mary English, residing a few miles north of the city. Together they trod the path of life for more than 52 years and working together for their family rearing them in a manner to do them credit.

Their children are Nellie, Mrs. J. T. Gunn, west of the city; George W. of Tallahassee, Joseph H. of Carnahan, Nebraska; Veerin of Texas; Mrs. Lizzie E. Holm of Traverse City, Mich.; Martin A. of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Jennie Spencer of Pueblo, Colo.

He is also survived by 25 grand children and four great grand children. He was one of nine children only two of whom are living. They are: Warren of Jacksonville and Theodore of Valley City, Kansas.

Mr. Daniels was a man of a rugged character; honorable in his dealings and respected by all who knew him. He was intelligent and well read and always loved a joke. He was kind to his family and beloved by his own flock.

The funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. by Rev. A. A. Todd and Rev. E. B. Landis at Jacksonville cemetery.

MISS LUCY MOUNT BACK FROM HOSPITAL IN EAST

In Service as Army Nurse at Nitro—Vast Working Force There Meant Many Hospital Cases.

Miss Lucy Mount is again in Jacksonville after an absence of nearly six months, in which she has been engaged in hospital war work. Miss Mount is now at the home of Mrs. Carl E. Black and will remain in Jacksonville for a number of days at least. Miss Mount has the offer of an excellent position in a marine hospital at Baltimore but still has this matter under advisement and may decide to remain in Jacksonville at this time.

Entered Service in August

It was last August that Miss Mount went from Jacksonville to engage in Red Cross work in the army and was assigned to duty at base hospital at Nitro, West Va. This is a city about 15 miles from Charleston, S. C., and which has come into being in just a little more than a year's time. All the time that Miss Mount was at the hospital there were from 60,000 to 70,000 men employed on government work, and as their families were with them, it can readily be understood how Nitro a city of a year, was seething with humanity.

The government along with its work of erecting the great plants for the manufacture of explosives, nitro-glycerin, sulphate acid and smokeless powder, being among the products, built to a system of hospitals. Miss Mount was located at the base hospital splendidly equipped and with 500 beds. There are also seven field hospitals in the danger zone, one emergency hospital and a large number of dispensaries. The base hospital was full all the time and with both surgical and medical cases and the ninety five Red Cross nurses found their time fully taken.

City Disintegrates

Miss Mount during the first part of her stay at the hospital was chief surgical nurse and for the remaining time assistant superintendent of nurses. When the armistice was signed, work on the building ceased at once and demobilization of the population began almost immediately. Soon afterward the great buildings were turned over to the ordnance department and now practically the only persons left at Nitro are the guards of the 1,000 soldiers. Just what will be done with the plant one can only conjecture. It is admirably located from a manufacturing standpoint as it adjoins rich fields of coal and ore. Henry Ford and other large manufacturers have looked over the plant but it is possible that it may be necessary for the government simply to dismantle the building.

Miss Mount, altho she lived strenuously at Nitro, said yesterday that she thoroughly enjoyed the work and was glad indeed she had entered it.

Capps was located at Camp Grant with the rank of major. Last September he was advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel and sent to France. He was located in Paris and his principal work was in the organization of the staff for twenty five base hospitals located in that vicinity.

The eminently splendid work that Lieut. Col. Capps has done in the army service has been mentioned in both medical journals and in the public press. A number of suggestions he made for the equipment of hospitals and the handling of contagious diseases were adopted by the government in all its army hospitals.

PACKERS CONFER WITH FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Big Problems of Production and Export to Consider—Will Talk About Hog Prices Jan. 23....

Fred Begg of the Powers-Begg Packing Co., left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where packers have a conference scheduled with the food administration. Two weeks ago another conference was held at the national capital which Mr. Begg also attended. There are between forty-five and fifty packers who attend these conferences and they represent the industry from all parts of the U. S.

The business of packing concerns these days runs to such enormous figures that it is almost impossible for the average business man to grasp them. In the handling of the meat supply for the U. S. and her allies during the day of the war and since, the packers and the food administration have necessarily worked together and it has been thru the co-operative effort that the production and transportation of such vast supplies have been possible.

Enormous Export Shipments.

The demand from England, France and Italy for packers' products has been such that 431,000,000 pounds was required monthly. Nearly all of this total was made up of pork products and to secure this production the orders have been apportioned among the packers according to their ability to secure products and prepare them for export purposes.

Meats that are intended for export are dressed in a somewhat different way than those intended for home consumption and the products prepared for the different foreign countries are not all the same, each one having its own special requirements. So not all packers are equipped to produce goods for the foreign markets. Recently England has, because of lack of shipping or terminal facilities or from some other cause, ceased taking a considerable portion of its allotment.

As a result the orders as distributed among the packing concerns making export goods, has been disturbed. The total production of 431,000,000 pounds per month, therefore, has not been necessary recently and this has been shown by the fact that the packers have not been taking on as many hogs as they did during previous weeks. There is an immense foreign demand for all pork products and a number of nations need the products, but thus far have not been able to make financial arrangement that will give the packing concerns their needed protection.

Hoover is Dictator.

All these problems of supply at present are in the hands of Herbert Hoover, chief of the food administration, and as he has been in Europe it has not somehow been possible to straighten them out, altho he has an able vice chairman serving in his stead in Washington. It is understood that at the conference of the packers and food administration tomorrow and Tuesday, it is expected to outline some program of production and distribution, which will take care of the vast number of hogs that the farmers and stockmen of the U. S. are growing. This conference will precede one of the packers to be held in Chicago Thursday, when the price for hogs is to be fixed for February. It is the general belief that present prices will remain during that month and that February will practically close the work of the food administration.

While some farmers are inclined to think that after the food administration goes out of business that there will be a decided slump in price of hogs, it is said that the packers do not take this view and instead believe that the prices will be steady if not higher. It is realized that during the present and recent months that enormous quantities of hogs have been shipped to all the leading markets and that the available supply for the next few months will probably not be as large as is normally true. One thing is certain, the price of pork and other meat products must remain somewhere near present figures unless there is a considerable falling off in grain values.

Future Demand. It is true also that the pending arrangements for credit by a number of men from overseas service is going to increase the home consumption. As already stated, the question of supplying meat products for this country—and really for the world—is one that the packers of the U. S. are now handling in conjunction with the food administration and the question is about as big as the mind can grasp.

HUMMER MANURE SPREADER

And, of all the manure spreaders on the market the Hummer has no equal. Why? The main frame which is the foundation is entirely of high carbon channel steel—no wood to rot out as in nearly every other make. All working parts mounted on this steel frame, which assures you of proper alignment of these parts, which in turn insures light draft. Heavy channel steel cross members are securely bolted to the side sills with steel brackets, under which is a heavy truss rod. Two brace rods extend diagonally across the frame connecting the side sills, thus eliminating any chance of a twisting frame and thereby throw the working parts out of alignment. The front end is rigidly braced and connected to the channel steel sides by a heavy cross member and trussed together with a heavy reinforced corner bracket. We claim perfection in construction for the Hummer. For convenience of the operator it is low down—easy to load. The arch of the front end allows you to turn short and can be turned easily in its own length. The channel steel sills are bent upward at front end and connected to a heavy steel cross member. Fifth wheel extra large in diameter and equipped with hard oil cup. The track of both rear and front wheels is such that you can successfully top-dress small growing corn. Top-dressing of any crop has proven most valuable. A light sprinkle of manure on your wheat, and also, your meadow, will pay big interest on the investment.

ADDRESS HAD GREAT PRESENT DAY INTEREST

Rev. M. L. Pontius Presented Paper on "The Church After War Times," at Recent Ministerial Association Meeting.

At a recent meeting of the Jacksonville Ministerial association Rev. M. L. Pontius presented a paper on the interesting subject of "The Church After War Times." The address was of large present day interest, dealing with a problem which is occupying the thought not only of all ministers but laymen as well. At the suggestion of some of those who heard the address it was secured. This theme suggests some change in the church due to the world war. I do not believe that any immediate radical change will take place in the church. The progress of the church is not revolutionary but evolutionary. The church of Christ is not a mechanism but an organism. The religion of our God grows and develops to meet the changing needs of progressive ages. Surely no person would even think of returning to the religion that found expression in the theology and philosophy of a few centuries ago. However the church has been the last factor in our civilization to adjust itself to the changing order. It may be well to have one conservative factor in our modern life.

I have heard men say that the church of the future would be the Y. M. C. A. This is impossible. The Y. M. C. A. has rendered a very necessary service to our soldiers and sailors. But this is not due to any inherent power in the organization but to the fact that in this war service the Y. represents the combined Protestant churches.

Impossible Predictions.
Some have predicted that in the near future there will be no church. They remind us of the fact that during the past two decades many rural churches have died. They forget that this is due largely to the fact that during these decades there has been an unusual exodus from rural to urban centers. They tell us that each year many "down town" city churches pass out of existence or move into the residence districts, apparently unable to apply the teaching of Jesus to the modern social conditions. These men refer to the fact that each year hundreds of our able ministers leave the ministry for other vocations; and that our colleges and seminaries cannot graduate ministerial students fast enough to meet the demand of vacant pulpits. They say the church has failed to adjust itself to the demands of an age of progress. Therefore they tell us that the church will be superseded for it is a disappearing institution. To this we reply that for 1900 years the church has outlived its enemies and critics and it stands today unscathed by the lightnings of human violence. Churches may die, ministers may fall or prove false, denominations may pass out of existence, our conception of the church's function may change, our theology and philosophy may be revamped, our dogmas may perish but the church of Christ will never be superseded by another organization, the church will continue to be the leaven of human society and the church must always be the spiritual Gibraltar ever guarding the soul's entrance into the peaceful sea of life.

Millennialist Claims.
Millennialists tell us that at the close of the world war as final preparation for the new age the Christ will appear on earth as a physical being to reign over the faithful, or that he will come as a spiritual being and the elect will be caught up in the air to be with their Lord. Therefore they claim the church will not be needed. It will be greatly modified. They tell us that the world war was the Armageddon of the scriptures; that this is the last war. In the face of the present world social and economic conditions, when nations are debating as to which one shall have the largest navy and the most efficient implements of destruction it is very difficult to predict just what the future will bring forth.

When a Church Loses.
Unquestionably the church is the loser when a minister presuming to speak with papal infallibility says to thinking men, "This is the last war, it is the final fulfillment of Biblical prophecy. History reveals the fact that these claims have been made relative to every great war in the history of Christianity. The beast of Revelation has been Caesar, King Charles, Napoleon, the Ex-kaiser according to the age in which the false prophet lived. A prominent minister of this state said to his audience one Sunday in 1918, 'This war is a direct fulfillment of Biblical prophecy. You will find a picture of the Kaiser in Rev. 13. Christ will come before Christmas 1918. Another predicted that Christ would return as a physical being to reign over a material world not later than Easter 1919. When I characterized such statements as the result of an overworked imagination and a superficial study of one of the most obscure books of the Bible one man replied, 'You are a heretic, you are a destructive critic.'

A layman said to me, 'I do not know how I can ever hear my minister preach again. He reached continually that at the close of the war Jesus would come to reign for a thousand years on the earth. He seemed so positive and quoted from Ezekiel, Daniel and Revelation so much that I began to believe as he did. Now I think of him as a false prophet. All this Millennial teaching and all such experiences as the one to which I have just referred will be detrimental to the church during these days of re-adjustment and reconstruction. But of this I am certain. Denominational propaganda may be rampant, sectarianism may abound speculation and dogmas may continue to live, but the church of Jesus Christ will survive perhaps the most conservative, but at the same time the most potent factor in the new civilization.'

Returned Soldiers' Belief.

It is yet too soon to express a balance and accurate judgment on just what moral and religious reaction the war has set in motion. There are all sorts of speculations regarding the religion of the U. S. soldier and sailor. From some quarters you hear statements indicating that these people believe the U. S. soldier has been attending a theological seminary. Others seem to indicate a belief that these fellows will return with all moral and spiritual ideas and ideals gone. Doubtless both statements are far from the real facts. We must not magnify any change that may have come to the soldier or sailor during the past eighteen months. The average soldier is the same fellow, with perhaps broader vision and new experience, but with the same natural tendencies and with a life not so greatly modified by his camp or war experience. The average soldier who has returned from Camp or from overseas manifests no unusual interests in the church. As the soldiers return they gradually adjust themselves to civilian life. I do not want to magnify, neither do I want to minimize any change that may have taken place in the lives of our boys who rendered such efficient and valiant service in the great war. They have won for themselves an immortal place in human history and we love to praise and honor them.

Duty of Every Church.

Doubtless as the soldiers and sailors return they are more susceptible to the influences of the church than they will be one year hence. This is the day of opportunity for the church. They have received the church's ministrations thru the medium of the Y. The support given the Red Cross organization, the large purchase of War Stamps and Liberty Bonds remind these boys of the splendid interest the people at home have manifested in them. This interest should be continued and it should be manifest in all church activities. I think at the close of every church announcement in the daily papers there should be these words, 'A special invitation is extended to soldiers and sailors.' I have recommended to my Senior C. E. Society that some interest be taken in these boys who return and whose names appear on our honor roll. I have suggested that they place in each vestibule of the church a large attractive card upon which is written in bright letters, 'Soldiers, Sailors and War Workers welcome. Come to C. E. meeting this evening at 6:30.' This is to be placed so that it will be the first thing the soldier sees as he enters the building.

Groups Spirit Wrong.

I do not agree with those who advocate special classes in S. S. for the returned soldiers and sailors, or any other plan that will tend to create a class or special group spirit. These boys prefer to return to their accustomed place in the community and church life. Any patronage will be quickly understood and resented. It is the duty of each church to arrange a permanent record containing the names, rank, number of company or battery in which the boy served. This record will be of great value to the next generation.

Institutional Church.

I have always been interested in the Institutional church. However the Institutional idea tried out in scores of places has not been uniformly successful. I believe the only really successful Institutional churches today are St. George's Episcopal, New York City; Judson's Baptist church, New York City; Old Spring Presbyterian church, New York City, and the Baptist temple in Philadelphia. But I like the Institutional church idea. There has never been a time when the church could to better advantage adopt at least a portion of the Institutional church program than at the present. An Institutional church is one that is so much alive that it can change when necessary so as to adjust to new conditions and environments, and one that ministers to the physical, social, moral and spiritual man. Our churches in Jacksonville are not Institutional. They are conventional. Our churches are open to the public on Sunday. True we have mid-week service but I would just as soon think of a husky lad trying to break into a ladies aid society as to think of him having an uncontrollable desire to attend the average mid-week prayer meeting. Theaters and pool rooms are open day and night. I am not overstating facts when I say we might just as well have upon our churches this sign "Nothing doing except on Sunday." We blame our returning soldier for spending so much time in the pool rooms. We have no right to offer this criticism when we keep our churches locked six days during the week. We are guilty too often of trying to save our church rather than trying to save the boys and girls, the young men and women of the community. No better indication of our interest in our boys who return from army and navy could be given than open churches with rooms heated and furnished not only with reading tables but with easy chairs, lounges, carefully selected mottoes and an atmosphere of cordial welcome. The church would in this program be taking the motto of its founder, "I came not to be ministered unto but to minister." Of course this program would mean careful supervision. It would mean the expenditure of some money, but what better investment could be made? This plan carefully worked out and regularly maintained would indicate the church's vital interest in the welfare of the young men of today. The church should be the social center for the young people of the community.

ADDRESS HAD GREAT PRESENT DAY INTEREST

A Wrong Viewpoint.
The average church congratulates itself if at the end of the year a few have been added to the membership and all debts are paid with a balance in the treasury. Too little attention is given this question. How many lives were enriched by the ministrations of this church and what investment has the church made in the young life of the neighborhood?

Christ's Church Adaptable

The church of Christ has always been distinguished because of its adaptability. Had Christianity not been a very flexible religion we would know today only as the religion of a few reactionary Jews. The very fact that it has lived thru so many centuries and has survived when thrown into sharp competition with so many other religions and organization is prima facie evidence of its great and enduring adaptability. Altho conservative the church has gradually adjusted itself to the discoveries of science, the changing demands of every new age. In the period of reconstruction following the war the church must not lose its flexibility. Interest in doctrine and dogma will be lost in the greater interest in life and service to humanity. The Bible belongs to the church of Jesus Christ. "The Bible was life before it was literature." The church must adapt itself to the new age so as to be able to translate this literature back into life.

Make Church Safe.

We hear a great deal today about making the world safe for democracy. I am intensely interested in the proposition of making the church safe for democracy. Often the denomination has been hindered and the good work of the church neutralized by self appointed heresy hunters. Often the church's best interests have been thwarted by a commercially mad publishing house. Not infrequently has the autocrat appeared in the local church, directing its affairs and weakening its influence in the community. How often has a church permitted this to go on because of what some have chosen to call the princely gift of the autocrat. This is a good time to put forth an extra effort to make the church of Christ safe for democracy.

Adjustments Necessary.

The days of reconstruction are here. Doubtless it will be more of a social, civic and economic, than a religious reconstruction. Gradually the church will be called upon to make some adjustments to meet the demands of the new civilization. One thing seems certain the next generation will require the church to prove that it is more interested in saving sinful men and women than it is in saving itself. Spirituality, love service, efficiency will be among the key words of the church of the future. If the nations of the earth are to experience universal and permanent peace, if the races of mankind are to be fraternized, if humanity is to be saved, the peace giving, fraternizing, saving influence must come thru the church of Jesus Christ.

Prayer Essential.

What we are the church is. God's plans are being worked out thru the lives of men. We need hours of spiritual meditation followed by thoro introspection. We need to pray. We need to pray until our prayers have formed a beaten pathway over which our souls may travel into the atmosphere of God. We need to serve. We need to serve until we recognize the fact that the gift without the giver is bare. We need to follow in the footsteps of Him who walked the lanes of Palestine in the long ago, who tho poor lived and served and gave and died that we might become rich.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

With The Dawn

The Coming of Baby Makes the Advent of a Glorious Future.

See-lets are great stress should be laid upon the remarkable influence which the mother's happy prenatal disposition has upon the health and future of the general child to come.

There is a renowned preparation known for over half a century has applied before the stock's arrival, known as Mother's Friend. This is a most grateful, penetrating remedy that it once softens and soothes the myriad of broad, fat abdominal muscle under the skin of the abdomen. By its regular use during the period the nerves, tendons and cords are relaxed and there is a absence of nausea, bearing-down pains strain and general discomfort more often than otherwise experienced when nature is impeded. By the use of Mother's Friend night and morning the muscles relax with ease while the time at the crisis is shortened. Pain and danger is naturally avoided. The Bradford-Regulator Company, 1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y., is the sole manufacturer of Mother's Friend, and obtain it from the druggists, and get into condition to meet ship in English at 10:35 a. m. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. Preparatory service at 10 o'clock. There will be no evening service.

The members are urged to be present to hear the reports and elect officers for the ensuing year for the various activities of the church. 2:30 p. m., the funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary Hanners will be held at Mt. ## WITH THE COLORS

James O. Wier Writes.
Mr. and Mrs. Grant Weir of 614 South Lafayette street have received the following letter from their son, Private James O. Wier, Co. A., 803d Pioneer Infantry American E. F.
St. Mihiel, France, Dec. 15, 1918.
Dear mother and father—I received your kind and loving letter and was more than glad to hear from you. I feel me well at the present time and I truly hope when these few lines reach you they will find you and papa likewise. It makes me feel good when I get letters from home. When I got your letter we was fixing to move to another place about fifteen miles away. We had to hike it, but did not take as long as by us hiking so much we get a better chance to see more of the place than if we were riding. It certainly is a pretty sight to be seen but it rains too much for me that is all the fault I have to this place. I just as well tell you that we are away up in the mountains close to St. Mihiel. We have passed thru a good many towns but they are all torn up so, till you can hardly tell what they are. When the sun is shining you can get away upon a hill and look down on the towns and they sure look pretty, really the prettiest sight I ever saw. I just wish you all could see it. You certainly would have laughed if you had seen us getting out of the way of those shells the Germans were shooting at us. If they had hit you it would be all over with you. To hear them coming thru the air would make your hair stand upon your head, they sound just like a street car but o, you, when they hit the ground, but we soon got used to them and never payed them any mind. They would take up trees by the roots. When we went to the front to get used to the shell-fire we went there under fire from the Germans and we were certainly frightened some, too, but we went just the same. All of us boys had a big laugh about it the next day. Some of the shells are half as big as I am. I forgot to tell you mamma that I weigh 150 lbs., of course that does not sound like it is much but it is a great deal for a fellow like me. I am feeling better than I ever felt in my life, that is saying quite a good deal for me. Everybody over here are rejoicing, glad that the war is over. I have not found much to say yet. I don't think I will get to see him. I am at least one hundred and fifty miles from where I was, when I wrote you before. We were living in houses then, but now we are living in dug-outs, some that the Germans made. Those shells when they hit make holes in the ground big enough to sit a common size house upon. You know they are some big. Do not worry about me for I will be home sometime soon, but I do not know when. The boys seem to be very well pleased with this country but we all want to get back to old U. S. A. as quick as the boats will bring us. How are you getting along with your lunch stand. Tell papa old U. S. A. has sure got some trucks, anywhere a man can go they can. They can climb any kind of hill. You should have seen them going up the mountains. They go like a wagon on level ground. They have made roads over here, they are made of rock. Whenever we stop in a place two or three weeks we go nine and ten miles and go three about five or six towns, of course they are all torn up, but they are all right for us boys to sleep in, in time of war, a very little sleep we boys get, those shells keep us awake all the time. Give my best regards to Mr. and Mrs. Yates. You can see nothing but soldiers every where you look. We see very few French women, four or five in a town, but the French men are plentiful. Before the close of war we had the Germans out on level ground pounding the devil out of them. Well mamma as it is night and getting late I will close. Will write more next time. So by with lots of love to you both. From your loving son,
Private James O. Wier.

From W. H. Morrow.
H. L. Jackson has received the following letter from his grandson, Wm. H. Morrow, Champagne, France:
Champagne, France, Dec. 7, '18.
Dear Grandpa, As I haven't written to you since I have been in France will write today. I am fine and dandy now, have been in the hospital. They took me Nov. 2 to Toul at the base hospital. I was there four days, then they put me on a hospital train and took me to Blois. I was there about two weeks. I was there when the armistice was signed. The Eleventh was my first time. I went down town and saw them celebrate. They sure did celebrate too.
They brought me from the hospital to this camp. I don't know whether they will send me back to my company or not. I have been here very near three weeks. This is a forwarding camp. I left my company on the front.

"Dr. King's New Discovery? Why, my folks wouldn't use anything else!" That's the general nation-wide esteem in which this well-known remedy is held. Its action is prompt, its taste pleasant, its relief gratifying.

We were in the Toul sector on the Metz front. I saw several skirmishes and several air battles. We were under shell fire several times, was run out of our camp. Those Dutch shells didn't sound very pleasant to me. They didn't seem to care where they shot.

The weather is not very cold here, does not freeze at night, but rains very near every day. The damp weather makes the air chilly. There is lots of pretty country in France, but they are about one hundred years behind the states.

I haven't seen a frame building only what the army has put up since I left the states. They are all stone and concrete.

The report around camp is they are going to send the convalescents home as soon as they get transportation. If they do it won't be long till I will be back in good old U. S. A.

I haven't heard from home or anyone since the last week in Oct. When they move one around every few days the mail never catches up. I wrote to my captain to send me my mail there but have not gotten any yet.

Well Grandpa will tell you some of army life. This is what we carry on our backs. A shelter-half tent, pole and pins, four blankets, a wool shirt, suit of underclothes, two pair socks, a pair of shoes, steel helmet, gas mask, mess kit and cup, with a rifle and 100 rounds of ammunition. The pack is very near as big as myself.

We are in barracks here, have good place to sleep. I saw where they have blown towns all to pieces. There is nothing being shot to pieces back here.

Well Grandpa will close hoping this will find you well and wishing you a merry Xmas and a happy new year.

From your grandson, Private Wm. H. Morrow.

Anyone who puts off buying farm wagons is going to be disappointed in the price and in fact that they will be unable to get them for a long time to come, factories are still working on government contract work with high priced labor and scarcity of material. We have on hand a few Studebaker Wagons that have been bought a long time and just came in. When they are gone we do not know where we can replace them. If your little one is out-of-sorts, see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, teaspoonful of "California Syrup

the constipated poison, undigested

1. Set your controls right, with retarded

2. Use your choke to get a richer mix-

3. Throw out the clutch and take

FRENCH PEOPLE WANT GERMAN "BIG BERTHA"

Want Super-Cannon to Display As Souvenir of German Fightfulness—First Fired on Paris on March 23—Were Afterward Remodeled Into a Larger Caliber.

Paris, Dec. 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The French people want one of the German "Big Berthas" or super-cannon which bombarded Paris to display in the Place de la Concorde as a souvenir of German fightfulness that failed of its purpose to destroy French morale.

The armistice does not stipulate that one of these instruments shall be surrendered but there is a movement to urge the government to demand it. There is no expectation that the Germans will include one of these weapons among the 2,500 guns they are required to give up under the armistice.

First Guns Faced On Paris
Facts obtained by military experts show that the first guns that fired upon Paris on March 23, last, numbered three. They were installed near Mont-Jole, in the forest of Saint Gobain. Two were on the same railroad spur leading out of Laon while the third was a little farther east in the vicinity of Crepy.

According to the latest information, the guns were pointed at an angle of more than 65 degrees, a charge of three hundred pounds of powder propelling the projectile to a height of one hundred thousand feet (nearly 19 miles) on its murderous mission to Paris. With every shot ten or twelve marine guns of sixteen or seventeen-inch calibre fired simultaneously upon targets unknown in order to conceal the location of the super-cannon.

It was a special steel shell of 210 millimeter calibre (about eight inches). It weighed three hundred pounds but the charge of explosive contained therein varied between thirty and forty pounds.

In the manufacture of the shell resided an innovation of the Germans. It is said to have been made of a special steel treated with tungsten so as to offer the maximum of resistance for a minimum of weight. The guns only protection was in camouflage and it proved to be no protection at all as allied aviators soon located them.

There is a report that several aviators, Americans, French, British, took a photograph of the first three Berthas in the forest of St. Gobain but upon that point officials are silent.

One Bertha Demolished
However, on March 27, one of the Berthas was blown up by an aerial torpedo which tore a hole in the ground more than fifty feet in diameter, a photograph of which was taken. The second was put out of business in the last days of April, while the third of the original three was silenced in May.

It is now asserted that two of these guns were remodeled into a larger calibre, nine-inch, and that they remodeled guns were the ones which resumed the shelling of Paris late in May last.

Subsequently the Germans succeeded in utilizing large calibre guns for long distance firing, in August, they used a marine gun from near Soissons, firing a twelve and a half inch shell. They were preparing to shatter Paris to an intensive bombardment when they were driven out of their Soissons-Chateau Thierry line by the counter-offensive of the allies.

Commandant Mirbel, the military expert, who organized the Turkish artillery before the Germans assumed charge of the military affairs of the country, told The Associated Press that the whole secret of the German long distance gun lay in the invention of a special high explosive powder which could only be used in guns constructed with a special steel of extraordinary resisting power.

The Germans had commenced the generalization of the process and they were manufacturing several guns similar to their Soissons one but Marshal Foch's offensive debuffed their plans.

TO MAKE NEW AIRPLANE ENGINE
London, Dec. 15.—One of the factories which manufactured two of the airplanes which aided to establish the supremacy of the British aviator over the German in France is now preparing to make a new engine which is expected to develop from 800 to 1,000 horsepower. It is claimed here that the new engine will be the most powerful airplane engine in existence and that it should do much to solve the problem of commercial aviation.

claims of Illinois Woman's College before the Educational Commission. Many encomiums were given the doctor for the excellent work of the college and the great part which he has played in its development. The financial needs of the college, which were presented at one million dollars, were not considered prohibitive, but rather modest in light of the present day requirements for successful college work.

Among the guests at the college this week were Miss M. Louise Brown of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. T. S. Brown of Divernon, Ill., Mrs. F. Johnston of Milton, Ill., Mrs. W. W. Deatherage of Auburn, and Mr. C. M. Carpenter of Kewanee, Ill.

Miss Laila Skinner of Buffalo, New York and Miss Louise Reed of Tulsa, Oklahoma returned to the college this week to resume their work. These young women were detained at their homes by reason of illness. The entire student body has now returned from the holiday recess.

Miss Edna Geiger was summoned to her home in Cissna Park, Illinois late Friday night by the serious illness of her mother. Added anxiety in the home is due to the illness of other members of the family.

The Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, delivered a forceful address at the Wednesday chapel service. Mr. Pontius enunciated personality, character, hard work, common sense and faith in God as requirements for success in life. He warned the students in a most pleasant way against having preparation as the sole end in view and urged them to look upon college as a training ground for the challenges of life in later years. He epitomized that warning by quoting the poem,

"Jim, He had a future ahead of him," Mr. Tom Buckthorpe has presented the college with a copy of "English Grammar in Familiar Lectures," by Samuel Kirkham, published in Baltimore by Plaskitt & Cogle in 1839. The lecture binding, still in good condition, indicates that if the binding had been of the present stock the volume would have been lost to the public, for it has evidently been through the "floods." It is interesting to notice that in the olden days there was time for at least another letter to certain words, such as "systematic," and "rhetorical." Certain adjectives against provincialisms are given by reminding the reader that "must not," or "hezent" for "has not," "New England or New York" errors in speech are indicated as "I be gone," "He lives to hum," "Where shall I dump my cart, square?" "Dump it yender," "What's the heft of your load?"

On account of the unusual influenza situation and the consequently interrupted work prior to the holidays, the date of the first appearance this year of the Dramatic Club has been postponed. The date of performance of the promised and prepared program has been three times set, but now with the shadow of the examinations before, they have decided to yield gracefully to a universally abnormal situation and lend their energies early in the spring to something big and worth while.

On Saturday evening, however, an informal stunt—a very clever story which had been dramatized in the social room, the Club gave credence to the members, Miss Lorene Smith and Miss Ruth Kuss, who took the parts of the two military lovers.

On Friday afternoon, January 24, at 5:15 in Music Hall, there will be an Expression recital to which the public is cordially invited. As the program is somewhat longer than usual, it is expected to begin sharply on time.
